RE: 9th International Conference on Advanced Vibrational Spectroscopy

Dear Bing Zhao,

We look forward to your attendance at the 9th International Conference on Advanced Vibrational Spectroscopy to be held June 11-16, 2017 In Victoria, BC, Canada. Please accept this letter as an official invitation to attend. The Citizenship and Immigration Canada's Special Event Code for this event is "16ICAV." We look forward to your invited oral presentation titled "Probing Structure and Function of Redox Proteins via Raman Spectroscopy".

The International Conference on Advanced Vibrational Spectroscopy (ICAVS) is a leading international conference that is open and dedicated to advances in all areas of vibrational spectroscopy. It therefore provides a broad, unique learning experience for newcomers to leaders in the field of infrared and Raman spectroscopy. The conference serves as an important event for discussion and exchange of the most cutting edge knowledge, insights, issues and ideas in vibrational spectroscopy.

Conference delegates are solely responsible for making their own arrangements and payments for travel, accommodation, registration and other matters related to their participation in this conference.

Sincerely,
